Not satisfied with bringing Capt Frederick W. Martens, of the East Thirty-lifth street police station, before the Board of Police Commissioners toto answer charges of alleged nestruck another iron in his soul and the Captain's official existence.

The latest Parkhurst attack is in the shape of a letter written to the Cappress Joseph Corcoran's saloon, with an alleged dive annex, on the southwest corner of Third avenue and Thirty-fifth treet, five doors away from Capt. Viciousness under elegant disguises may have its apologists, but in the resort referred to there are no disguises about it. It is a den of frank, brute animalism, and you know it; of course you know it.

We have been trying to conceive what nort of instincts you are animated that you can enjoy or even endure the close proximity of a hole that is so ingenuously filthy. We have observed the like proximity in the instance of certain other station-houses. Perhaps you can tell us whether there is any special significance attaching to such Becker's employ, and who believed that proximity. We do not mean to imply that the Department considers such a rescort a necessary adjunct of the official headquarters of a precinct, still, any man is a fool that supposes that Corcoran can put a bawdy-house annex onto his saloon and run it up so close to your office without there being a certain amount of understanding between the two institutions.

"If, as we would fain believe, your instincts are outraged by the proximity of such a nest of nastiness, by what sedative considerations are we to suppose that those instincts are kept tranquil under the severe and constant aggravation? We merely want to know what counter-weight you avail of to preserve the equanimity of your rightyous soul when pulled upon by the distracting irritations of Corcoran's divecase that although Commissioner Mac-Lean was known to have taken steps last Friday looking to your investigation before the Board your neighbor on the corner, and other neighbors only a little more remote, were rushing their dents of the American side of the St. lecherous traffic with the same openness Lawrence who had been killing sturand enthusiasm Friday evening that they had been in the earlier part of the week; all of which, at least, suggests the confidence which you have in the bulk of the HILTON, N. J., April 24.-Everybody n town is in a state of feverish excitement to-day over the brutal attempt of a discharged farm-hand to murder Philip Strousse at Becker's Woods, a short distance from here. Strousse, who works on the farm of William Becker, went to the barn at o'clock yesterday morning. "Joe," who had recently been discharged from Becker's employ, and who believed that Strousse was responsible for it, sprang from behind an obstruction in the barn which had concealed him, and aimed a furious blow with an axe at Strousse's head. It was a glancing blow, and cut the flesh from the top of the head to the right ear. Strousse grabbed the axe, when "Joe" whiped out a kulfe and plunged it into Strousse's side. Strousse fell unconscious and "Joe" fied.

The whole neighborhood was aroused and gave pursuit. "Joe" was tracked as far as Elizabeth, where every trace of him was lost.

Strouse's wounds were attended to by a physician at Irvington, where he was taken in a carriage. It is thought that he will recover.

Last evening. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper. Minister of Marine and Fisheries, said that he would see that the Americans were prosecuted under the clause of the new criminal code, referring to carrying explosives on the person, which renders convicted persons liable to seven years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Had the offenders been Canadians, they would have been prosecuted under the Provincial law for killing fish by illegal methods, the penalty for which is comparatively slight. The Dominion Government will instruct the County Crown Attorney to refuse ball.

May 1, when, as has already been an nounced, the offer of "The World" must be withdrawn, the sales of cheap coal should show a large increase. Remember that this is the most favorable season of the year to get in supplies of coal for the following Wioter, and that "The World's" offer to furnish the very best in quality that the market affords, at a reduction of 75 cents below the regular retail price, gives purchasers at the present time exceptional advantages.

This large saving is a consideration that not even the large consumers of anthractic can overlook. If they purchase the 34.50 coal, they are not only making ag great saving, but they will have the satisfaction of knowing that every ton which they buy in this way is helping to crush out of existence the tyranny of the triple alliance of the coal robbers from which they have been suffering for years.

Just what steps the Board will take will be watched with interest.

The practice has been carried on since the advent of the long-distance telephone. Many of the firms have private wires from the foor of one exchange to that of another. Men are at the telephone constantly, and by a code of signals the fluctuations of the market.
